MEMORANDUM FOR : Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT : Forthcoming Books on the "Summer" List

1. This memorandum is for information only to invite your attention to the following books, which are announced for publication in the coming weeks and which will be of interest to CIA.

a. HILSMAN, Roger. To Move A Nation: The Politics of Foreign Policy-Making in the Administration of John F. Kennedy. (Doubleday, 9 June). Announced as being written by one of "the key figures in the Kennedy Administration," this book "gives behind-the-scenes descriptions of the missile crisis, the fall of Diem, and the operations of the CIA."

b. KANN, David. The Codebreakers. (Macmillan) This book is again announced for summer publication but with no date given.

c. DULLES, Allen W., ed. (Harper & Row, June). Great True Spy Adventures. An anthology of true spy stories from the Bible to the present, this anthology will include many extracts not found in the usual run-of-the-mill "spy" readers.

d. OLLESTAD, Norman. Inside the FBI. (Lyle Stuart, 16 June). The author is an ex-FBI agent. The book is described as an "exposé" of the inadequate training procedures, bureaucratic tyranny and racial prejudices in the FBI.

Lyle Stuart, the publisher, has published various books consisting mainly of anti-religious material (particularly attacking the Catholic Church), material highly critical of the U.S., and books best classified as pornographic. Stuart was associated with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee and has been linked to other Communist-front groups.

1. TULLY, Andrew. White Tie and Dagger. (Morrow, October). This is announced as a study of "Washington's Embassy Row ... detailing everything from how our secrets are stolen by foreign diplomats, to why Dean Rusk dislikes U Thant." It seems unlikely that he can pass up a chance for a few additional swats at CIA.
